Complaint No. RA No. 07/2026 IN C.G. No. 320/2025

- It is not disputed that the complainant deposited a sum of Rs. 1,24,000/- on 16.02.2021 pursuant to settlement under the scheme introduced by the respondent. It is also not disputed that after acceptance of the said amount, the respondent released a fresh electricity connection bearing CA No. 153255489 on 16.03.2021.
- Once the respondent accepted the settlement amount and acted upon the same by granting a fresh electricity connection, the respondent cannot subsequently deny another connection on the basis of the same alleged dues without placing any cogent material on record showing subsisting legally enforceable liability against the complainant.
- The respondent has failed to place on record any document to show that while accepting the settlement amount; it specifically reserved a right to deny future electricity connections despite grant of fresh connection pursuant to such settlement.
- The plea of the respondent that the dues were never waived off is not sufficient in the facts of the present case, particularly when the respondent itself regularized the position by granting a fresh electricity connection in the year 2021 after accepting the settlement amount.
- The objection regarding Fire Clearance Certificate and Completion/Occupation Certificate also does not inspire confidence at this stage as the primary ground for rejection of the application was alleged energy dues. Further, the respondent had previously granted electricity connection in the same premises/building.
- Electricity is an essential service and cannot be denied arbitrarily. The action of the respondent in rejecting the application of the complainant despite prior settlement and grant of fresh connection is unjustified.
- The respondent was directed to release the new electricity connection to the complainant.

Complaint No. RA No. 07/2026 IN C.G. No. 320/2025

Against this order of the Forum, the OP filed a review petition in the Forum on the following grounds:-

- i) That vide proceedings dated 05.05.2026, this Hon'ble Forum specifically directed the respondent to file an affidavit regarding the business decision taken in the year 2021 in respect of release/restoration of electricity connections in Balmiki colony area.
- ii) That respondent in compliance of the said directions, had prepared and was in process of filing a detailed affidavit clarifying that during the relevant period around the year 2021, substantial electricity dues had accumulated in Balmiki Colony area and large number of electricity connections had remained disconnected/defaulted due to non-payment of electricity.
- iii) That considering peculiar circumstances prevailing in the area and for the purpose of regularization of supply, restoration/release of electricity connections and reduction of losses, a conditional business decision was adopted whereby connections were permitted to be released/restored upon deposit of approximately 25% of outstanding dues.
- iv) That the dues pertaining to CA no. 100574647 standing in the name of Ms. Babuni Devi are related to the applied premises and also bear connection with the family relationship of the applicant.

We have heard both the parties in details and perused the pleadings filed by them.

1. This Forum can review the orders under Regulation 19 of the Delhi Electricity Regulatory Commission (Forum for Redressal of Grievances of the Consumers and Ombudsman) Regulations, 2018 which stipulates as follows:-

Power to Review

(1) Any person may file an application for review before the Forum, upon the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was passed or on account of some mistake or error apparent from the face of the record, within thirty (30) days of the date of the order, as the case may be.

(2) An application for such review shall clearly state the matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the order was passed or the mistake or error apparent from the face of the record. The application shall be accompanied by such documents, supporting data and statements as the Forum may determine. (3) When it appears to the Forum that there is no sufficient ground for review, the Forum shall reject such review application:

Provided that no application shall be rejected unless the applicant has been given an opportunity of being heard.

This requirement is in consonance with the order XLVII of Civil Procedure Code.

3. The Forum perused various judgments delivered by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India and other Courts on this subject.

4. In one of the recent orders, the Hon'ble Supreme Court, on 18th August, 2022, in CIVIL APPEALS NO. 5503-04 OF 2022 ARISING OUT OF PETITIONS titled S. MADHUSUDHAN REDDY Versus V. NARAYANA REDDY AND OTHERS, examined the relevant provisions of law that governs review jurisdiction as follows:

- Section 114 of the CPC which is the substantive provision, deals with the scope of review and states as follows:

"Review:- Subject as aforesaid, any person considering himself aggrieved:-

- by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed by this Code, but from which no appeal has been preferred;
- by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed by this Code; or
- by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes, may apply
- for a review of judgment to the court which passed the decree or made the order, and the court may make such order thereon as it thinks fit."

- The grounds available for filing a review application against a judgment have been set out in Order XLVII of the CPC in the following words:

"1. Application for review of judgment - (1) Any person considering himself aggrieved -

- by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed, but from which no appeal has been preferred,
- by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed, or
- by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes, and who, from the discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence was not within his knowledge or could not be produced by him at the time when the decree was passed or order made, or on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record, or for any other sufficient reason, desires to obtain a review of the decree passed or order made against him, may apply for a review of judgment to the Court which passed the decree or made the order.

(2) A party who is not appealing from a decree or Order may apply for a review of judgment notwithstanding the pendency of an appeal by some other party except where the ground of such appeal is common to the applicant and the appellant, or when, being respondent, he can present to the Appellate Court the case on which he applies for the review.

1[Explanation-The fact that the decision on a question of law on which the judgment of the Court is based has been reversed or modified by the subsequent decision of a superior Court in any other case, shall not be a ground for the review of such judgment.] “

- A glance at the aforesaid provisions makes it clear that a review application would be maintainable on (i) discovery of new and important matters or evidence which, after exercise of due diligence, were not within the knowledge of the applicant or could not be produced by him when the decree was passed or the order made; (ii) on account of some mistake or error apparent on the face of the record; or (iii) for any other sufficient reason.

- In Col. Avatar Singh Sekhon v. Union of India and Others (1980 Supp SCC 562), this Court observed that a review of an earlier order cannot be done unless the court is satisfied that the material error which is manifest on the face of the order, would result in miscarriage of justice or undermine its soundness. The observations made are as under:

"12. A review is not a routine procedure. Here we resolved to hear Shri Kapil at length to remove any feeling that the party has been hurt without being heard. But we cannot review our earlier order unless satisfied that material error, manifest on the face of the order, undermines its soundness or results in miscarriage of justice. In Sow Chandra Kante and Another v. Sheikh Habib (1975) 1 SCC 674, this Court observed:

'A review of a judgment is a serious step and reluctant resort to it is proper only where a glaring omission or patent mistake or like grave error has crept in earlier by judicial fallibility. ... The present stage is not a virgin ground but review of an earlier order which has the normal feature of finality.' " (emphasis added)

- In Parsion Devi and Others v. Sumitri Devi and Others (1997) 8 SCC 715, stating that an error that is not self-evident and the one that has to be detected by the process of reasoning, cannot be described as an error apparent on the face of the record for the Court to exercise the powers of review, this Court held asunder:

"7. It is well settled that review proceedings have to be strictly confined to the ambit and scope of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC. In Thungabhadra Industries Ltd. v. Govt. of A.P. 1964 SCR (5) 174, this Court opined:

'11. What, however, we are now concerned with is whether the statement in the order of September 1959 that the case did not involve any substantial question of law is an 'error apparent on the face of the record'. The fact that on the earlier occasion the Court held on an identical state of facts that a substantial question of law arose would not per se be conclusive, for the earlier order itself might be erroneous. Similarly, even if the statement was wrong, it would not follow that it was an 'error apparent on the face of the record', for there is a distinction which is real, though it might not always be capable of exposition, between a mere erroneous decision and a decision which could be characterized as vitiated by 'error apparent'. A review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereby an erroneous decision is reheard and corrected, but lies only for patent error.'

Complaint No. RA No. 07/2026 IN C.G. No. 320/2025

- Again, in Meera Bhanja v. Nirmala Kumari Choudhury (1995) 1 SCC 170 while quoting with approval a passage from Aribam Tulleshwar Sharma v. Aribam Pishak Sharma (1979) 4 SCC 389 this Court once again held that review proceedings are not by way of an appeal and have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order 47 Rule 1 CPC.
- Under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC a judgment may be open to review inter alia if there is a mistake or an error apparent on the face of the record. An error which is not self-evident and has to be detected by a process of reasoning, can hardly be said to be an error apparent on the face of the record justifying the court to exercise its power of review under Order 47 Rule 1 CPC. In exercise of this jurisdiction under Order 47 rule 1 CPC it is not permissible for an erroneous decision to be 'reheard and corrected'. A review petition, it must be remembered has a limited purpose and cannot be allowed to be 'an appeal in disguise'". [emphasis added]
- The error referred to under the Rule, must be apparent on the face of the record and not one which has to be searched out.
- It is also settled law that in exercise of review jurisdiction, the Court cannot reappreciate the evidence to arrive at a different conclusion even if two views are possible in a matter. In Kerala State Electricity Board v. Hitech Electrothermics & Hydropower Ltd. and Others (2005) 6 SCC 651, this Court observed as follows:

"10 In a review petition it is not open to this Court to reappreciate the evidence and reach a different conclusion, even if that is possible. Learned counsel for the Board at best sought to impress us that the correspondence exchanged between the parties did not support the conclusion reached by this Court. We are afraid such a submission cannot be permitted to be advanced in a review petition.

The appreciation of evidence on record is fully within the domain of the appellate court. If on appreciation of the evidence produced, the court records a finding of fact and reaches a conclusion, that conclusion cannot be assailed in a review petition unless it is shown that there is an error apparent on the face of the record or for some reason akin thereto. It has not been contended before us that there is any error apparent on the face of the record. To permit the review petitioner to argue on a question of appreciation of evidence would amount to converting a review petition into an appeal in disguise." (emphasis added)

- Under the garb of filing a review petition, a party cannot be permitted to repeat old and overruled arguments for reopening the conclusions arrived at in a judgment. The power of review is not to be confused with the appellate power which enables the Superior Court to correct errors committed by a subordinate Court. This point has been elucidated in Jain Studios Ltd. V. Shin Satellite Public Co. Ltd. (2006) 5 SCC 501 where it was held thus:

"11. So far as the grievance of the applicant on merits is concerned, the learned counsel for the opponent is right in submitting that virtually the applicant seeks the same relief which had been sought at the time of arguing the main matter and had been negatived. Once such a prayer had been refused, no review petition would lie which would convert rehearing of the original matter.

It is settled law that the power of review cannot be confused with appellate power which enables a superior court to correct all errors committed by a subordinate court. It is not rehearing of an original matter. A repetition of old and overruled argument is not enough to reopen concluded adjudications. The power of review can be exercised with extreme care, caution and circumspection and only in exceptional cases.

12. When a prayer to appoint an arbitrator by the applicant herein had been made at the time when the arbitration petition was heard and was rejected, the same relief cannot be sought by an indirect method by filing a review petition. Such petition, in my opinion, is in the nature of 'second innings' which is impermissible and unwarranted and cannot be granted." (emphasis added)

- After discussing a series of decisions on review jurisdiction in Kamlesh Verma v. Mayawati and Others (2013) 8 SCC 320, this Court observed that review proceedings have to be strictly confined to the scope and ambit of Order XLVII Rule 1, CPC. As long as the point sought to be raised in the review application has already been dealt with and answered, parties are not entitled to challenge the impugned judgment only because an alternative view is possible. The principles for exercising review jurisdiction were succinctly summarized in the captioned case as below:

"20. Thus, in view of the above, the following grounds of review are maintainable as stipulated by the statute:

- When the review will be maintainable:
- Discovery of new and important matter or evidence which, after the exercise of due diligence, was not within knowledge of the petitioner or could not be produced by him;
- Mistake or error apparent on the face of the record;
- Any other sufficient reason.

The words "any other sufficient reason" has been interpreted in Chajju Ram vs. Neki, AIR 1922 PC 112 and approved by this Court in Moran Mar Basselios Catholicos vs. Most Rev. Mar Poulse Athanasius & Ors. 1955 SCR 520 to mean "a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified in the rule". The same principles have been reiterated in Union of India v. Sandur Manganese & Iron Ores Ltd. & Ors. (2013) 8 SCC 337.,

- When the review will not be maintainable: -
- A repetition of old and overruled argument is not enough to reopen concluded adjudications.
- Minor mistakes of inconsequential import.
- Review proceedings cannot be equated with the original hearing of the case.
- Review is not maintainable unless the material error, manifest on the face of the order, undermines its soundness or results in miscarriage of justice.
- A review is by no means an appeal in disguise whereby an erroneous decision is re-heard and corrected but lies only for patent error.
- The mere possibility of two views on the subject cannot be a ground for review. (vii) The error apparent on the face of the record should not be an error which has to be fished out and searched.
- The appreciation of evidence on record is fully within the domain of the appellate court, it cannot be permitted to be advanced in the review petition.
- Review is not maintainable when the same relief sought at the time of arguing the main matter had been negatived."

5. It can be seen that the substance of OP's review petition is that they are willing to file an affidavit with regard to the fact that during the period 2021, substantial electricity dues had accumulated in the area where new connection is sought by the complainant and large number of electricity connections had remained disconnected/defaulted due to non-payment.

Complaint No. RA No. 07/2026 IN C.G. No. 320/2025

For the purpose of regularization of supply, restoration/release of electricity connections and reduction of losses, a conditional business decision was adopted whereby connection were permitted to be released/restored upon deposit of approximately 25% of the outstanding dues.

6. By the way of this review, the complainant has raised objection that the orders of the Forum be modified/changed and OP should be allowed to file an affidavit in this regard.

Approaching the Forum for review of order for the above said purposes are not acceptable.

7. Therefore, in view of the above analysis of Review Jurisdiction and the conclusions drawn, it can be said that there is no ground available in the present Review Petition. In the guise of 'Review', we cannot entertain appeal against earlier order of the Forum.

Hence the review, being devoid of merit as per Regulation concerned, is not maintainable and is accordingly, dismissed.

No order as to the cost. Both the parties should be informed accordingly.
Proceedings closed.
